American Diploma Pathway (ADP)

The American Diploma Pathway (ADP) program helps foster Academic collaboration with American schools.

Schools will be able to offer an American high school diploma within their country without many changes to the existing curriculum. This transition will be facilitated by Unidemy Global.

Students gain advance credits for their tenure in the American diploma.

Advantages of ADP for Students:

- Official transcript and official diploma signed by the American school
- Graduation ceremony in the American school
- Discounts on summer programs
- Alumni status
- Scholarships and Provisional Admissions

Advantages of ADP High Schools:

- Partner recognition on the website of the American school
- Joint curriculum development
- Staff exchange programs
- Participation in international science fairs, conferences and research labs

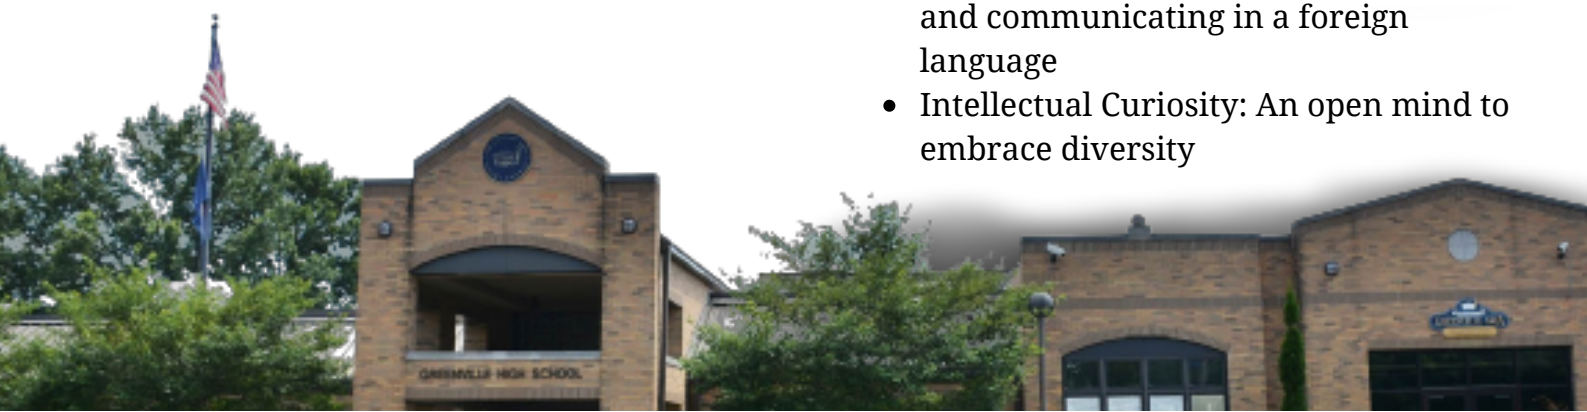

International Student Exchange Program (ISEP)

- The ISEP is a unique endeavor to help students achieve diversity and eliminate culture shock
- ISEP promotes peer learning and introduces varied perspectives and ideas
- Familiarity with foreign education systems
- Promotes ethnic and religious diversity and builds tolerance

Unidemy Global conducts a rigorous screening process that selects students for the ISEP:

- Academics: An average minimum GPA of 3 over the past 4 years.
- English Language Skills: Acceptable scores on the Standard Tests (TOEFL/IELTS) and proficiency in English.
- Personality: A personal essay reflecting the student's personality
- Attitude: Adapting to another culture and communicating in a foreign language
- Intellectual Curiosity: An open mind to embrace diversity
